The Porsche Tennis Grand Prix 2017, a WTA Premier event, was played in the Porsche Arena in Stuttgart on Porplastic RedClay Pro. The tournament is an indoor event and attracts every year the best womens' Tennis players in the world. 8 times over the last 9 years, the Players have elected the Porsche Tennis Grand Prix the best Premier 700 tournament on the WTA tour.

The surface was supplied and installed by a team from Porplastic which provided an excellent work and support during the tournament.

Porplastic RedClay Pro is a real clay court technology and provides true clay court play with long and exciting rallies which are characteristically for clay court Tennis.

In light of this very positive experience, we highly recommend Porplastic RedClay Pro to any Tennis player in the World in search of a real clay court experience.

With kind regards,

Markus Günthardt
Tournament Director
